

DEPARTMENT OF ENGLISH — Visiting Assistant Professor of English

Position Summary: The Department of English at Gettysburg College invites applications for a Visiting Assistant Professor position in post-1900 global Anglophone literature, with preferred specialization in the literature of Africa, South Asia, and/or the Caribbean, beginning August 2021. Candidates will be expected to teach six courses in the 2021-2022 year, which will include courses in their specialty and first-year writing.

Qualifications: A Ph.D. in English or comparable field by time of appointment is preferred. The successful candidate will have a strong research agenda, be committed to the teaching of undergraduates, and contribute to the diversity of our curriculum and/or community.

Application Details: Please visit our website (<http://gettysburg.peopleadmin.com/postings/3500>) to electronically submit your cover letter addressed to Professor McKinley Melton, Search Committee Chair, curriculum vitae, and writing sample. In addition, applicants should submit the names and email addresses of three professional references. At least one letter should be able to speak to the candidate's teaching effectiveness.

For full consideration, applications should be received by January 11, 2021. Inquiries can be addressed to Professor McKinley Melton at mmelton@gettysburg.edu.

Gettysburg College is a highly selective liberal arts college located within 90 minutes of the Baltimore/Washington metropolitan area. Established in 1832, the College has a rich history and is situated on a 220-acre campus with an enrollment of approximately 2,600 students. Gettysburg College celebrates diversity and welcomes applications from members of any group that has been historically underrepresented in the American academy.

Gettysburg College, an equal opportunity employer, complies with all applicable federal, state, local laws and regulations regarding nondiscrimination. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment and admission. The College prohibits discrimination and harassment, and provides equal opportunity without regard to race, ethnicity, color, religion, national origin, disability, veteran status, marital/familial status, possession of a General Education Development Certificate (GED) as compared to a high school diploma, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, sex, age, or genetic information in all aspects of employment, educational programs, activities, and admissions. Pursuant to Title IX of the Education Amendment of 1972, Gettysburg College prohibits discrimination on the basis of sex (i.e., which includes but is not limited to the prohibition of sexual misconduct and relationship violence, including sexual assault and harassment) in all of its educational programs and activities.